2005 NEW YORK CITY GOURMET MARKETPLACE

Dom's Fine Foods

202 Lafayette St. (bet. Broome & Kenmare Sts.), 6 to Spring St., 212-226-1963

■ At this "fabulous old-world Italian" market in SoHo, the "incredibly fresh assortment" of "huge" sandwiches ("your best bet" in the neighborhood) has area workers lining up at lunchtime, and it's also a "great place for pasta, cheese, olive oil" and other staples, all at "can't-be-beat" prices; however, the real highlight here is the butcher counter and its "absolutely beautiful meats", including aged beef and some 10 kinds of housemade dry-aged sausage, all of which are lovingly "prepared by a very skilled staff."

Our master chef was the head chef for the Grand Hotel in Taipei for many years. He cooked for Min. Chiang Kai-Shek when she lived in Long Island. Our chef insists on only the freshest produce available. To him only the best will do, so he personally checks all the daily deliveries of meat, fish, fruit and vegetables, and never used any canned, preprocessed or frozen food to ensure top quality. Most importantly, he does not allow the commonly used monosodium glutamate (M.S.G.) to enter his kitchen due to the freshness of his preparations which makes the spice additive totally unnecessary.

Szechuan Hunan Cottage boasts a free, efficient, speedy delivery take out service. The cuisine is Szechuan/Hunan and we will tailor your order to suit your own personal taste. In accordance with authentic Chinese traditional cuisine, we sincerely trust that you will enjoy our efforts in preparing such a good & sumptuous meal.
